On Sunday, the Fourth, the various Churches of the City were erawded. The exercises very generally partook of the nature of thanks to the Great Ruler for the manifold blessings of liberty enjoyed by the people of the United States, and appropriate allusions to the greatness of our country and its ultimate destiny. The Union National Prayer Meeting at the Plymouth Church was very largely attended, and its proceedings were characterized by great solemnity and feeling. Many were the hearts that beat in unison to the patriotic prayer -

THE PIPTH.

On Monday morning, the stir of the people began long before the rising of the sun. Carriages, wagons, carts, and every vehicle that could carry came pouring into the city until eleven o'clock. By that hour the streets were crowded in every direction, and the excitement of the occasion was at its hight. The number of strangers in the city is variously computed at from 20,000 to 40,000 persons.

Holbrook's Brass Band, at three o'clock in the morning, played the National airs of Hail Hail Columbia and Yankee Doodle from the roof of the Atwater Block. The firing of cannon and ringing of the bells of the various churches of the city were commenced at four o'clock; and at six o'clock the musicians attached to Lent's circus stationed themselves on the piazza of the American House, and for nearly an hour discoursed most beautiful music.

At nine o'clock the procession began to form. Euclid street, and could not have numbered less Sprague, Esq., of Jackson, Mich. than nearly 3,000 persons.

THE FIRE WORKS The Fire-works in the evening were witnessed by large numbers of persons. They were exhibited on the Flats south of the city.

It is gratifying to know that but few persons disgraced themselves and the occasion by getting drunk or fighting. Up to seven o'clock in the evening, the Police made no arrests, although twenty-five extra men were detailed for the service, with strict directions to arrest every individual who was in the alightest degree disorderly. Nor have we heard of any acidenta occurring to mar the unalloyed enjoynent of the day.
